PENN AND PRINCETON WILL MEET SATURDAY

Play-Off to Decide the Intercollegiate Soccer Championship Will Probably Be Staged in Tigertown. Ice Hockey Players Practice in Morning

this morning the red and blue Penn. soccer team will meet Princeton next Saturday afternoon in a playoff to decide the intercollegiate championship be held it is almost certain that the scene of the contest will be in Tiger-town. Coach Stewart, of the Penn team, is not averse to playing the Tigers on their home loam provided they do not play on their regular socter field which he says is not fit for the playing a championship game. The field is said to be uneven and full of stones that renders fast soccer impossible and might result in injury to the players.

Should Princeton agree to the demands of Coach Stewart the game will be staged in Tigertown at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Penn would present the series of the context of the playing of freshman and those not having a one-year residence, however, was not made until the spring of the year in which Spencer started to play, and he is hence said to be entirely within the playing of freshman and those not having a one-year residence, however, was not made until the spring of the year in which Spencer started to play, and he is hence said to be entirely within the playing of freshman and those not having a one-year residence, however, was not made until the spring of the year in which Spencer started to play, and he is hence said to be entirely within the playing a Coach George Orton, of the ice hockey team, is pulling a Johnny Heisman with his hockey players. be staged Saturday afternoon. Penn would pre-fer playing the game on a neutral field, but Princeton is unwilling. Haverford but Princeton is unwilling. and Merion have been suggested as neu-tral fields on which the game could be played to bigger crowds than would be rawn to Princeton. It is said that the drawn to Princeton offered the Tigers balf of the gate receipts if the game was held on Franklin Field. It was at first proposed that the game be played on the Phillies grounds, but the hall park had been previously secured by professional football teams. The students out Pena' way are all agog over the soccer game and would throng Franklin Field or any field near the city. Lest year the Red and Blue team won the championship without much of a fight, but this year they were forced to show their best wares to finish forced to show their best wares to finish in a tie with the Tigers. The fact that sector is a major sport at the University and that candidates for the team numbered at the outset of the season more than 100 has made it next to foothall the most popular fall sport.

Penn's 9-to-3 victory over Haverford ast Saturday is compared by her fol owers with the 4-to-0 victory scored lowers with the 4-to-0 victory scored over the same eleven by Princeton, and they feel that the title cup will repose in Houston Hall. Haverford players and students are a unit in declaring and students are a unit in declaring that Penn has a better team and should win in the play-off. Coach Stewart thinks that his aggregation is in better form at present than they have been any time this year and is confident that they will be no another above. they will bring another championship

Lee, the little forward, whose brilliant work during the last few games has been the outstanding feature of the team's play, is rated as one of the best goal kickers ever to wear the Red and Blue in the sport. His kicks are so swift and so well placed that it takes an exceedingly efficient goalkeeper to prevent a score. Bink Bingham, a vet-eral of three years, shares the scoring limelight with Lee. Like Binns, the captain of the team, Bingham is a Philadelphia product, having learned his soccer at Frankford High, captaining the championship eleven of that school several years ago. Binns played
